

Practical Strategies for Managing the Behavioral Challenges of Foster and Adoptive Children and Youth on October 19, 2006

The Connecticut Council on Adoption, in conjunction with Casey Family Services, invites you to the Practical Strategies for Managing the Behavioral Challenges of Foster and Adoptive Children and Youth conference.

The presenter, Richard J. Delaney, Ph.D., is an internationally-acclaimed clinical psychologist who works closely with foster/adoptive parents and agencies which serve troubled youngsters. He is the author of several books on attachment issues, foster care and adoption.

The conference will be held Thursday, October 19, at the Courtyard by Marriott, 4 Sebeth Drive in Cromwell, from 8:00 a.m. – 4:00 p.m.

All foster and adoptive parents are encouraged to attend. Financial scholarships are available. CEU credit is also available to agency workers and/or parents.

Registration information can be obtained by calling 860.289.0708.
