Adults Protecting Children: Child Sexual Abuse Prevention

It is estimated that there are 60 million survivors of child sexual abuse in America today. In order to prevent child sexual abuse, we must shift the burden from children to adults. This workshop will provide an overview of child sexual abuse, warning signs of potential predators, how to confront uncomfortable situations, and ways to advocate for children in our community.

Internet Safety for Parents & Caregivers

This curriculum will increase participants' understanding of the internet, and specifically how their children/families may be using their internet skills in ways that could put them at risk. Participants will learn about the risks of posting personal information on the internet, how internet predators can use seemingly harmless comments or information to find out important details about an individual, and strategies to discuss these issues with their children/families and monitor internet usage.
